Sinkhole on Ring Road

Traffic CLOSED on Srirampura, Somanathanagar and Dattagalli stretch

Traffic Police have placed barricades at the spot on Dattagalli Ring Road where the sinkhole was discovered this morning. Vehicles can, however, move on the other side of the road.

Mysuru, July 20 (RK&DM)- The sudden appearance of a sinkhole on Srirampura-Somanathanagar-Dattagalli stretch of Ring Road (Manandavadi Road) has caused alarm among motorists. The sinkhole, resembling a crater, measures 15 to 20 feet deep and 4 feet wide and is believed to have formed late last night due to heavy rain.

Water has collected at the bottom and the surrounding asphalted road is also vulnerable as the road foundation is unstable and might collapse.

This sinkhole was discovered early this morning by passersby who promptly alerted the Police and other authorities.

Vidushi Padmini Rao to perform tomorrow

Vidu. Padmini Rao Pt.Veerabhadraiah Pt.Ramesh Dhannur

Mysuru, July 20- Swarasankula Sangeetha Sabha has organised a grand Hindustani vocal concert by Vidushi Padmini Rao on Sunday (July 21) at Veene Seshanna Bhavana in Kuvempunagar at 6 pm.

She will be accompanied on the harmonium by Pt.Veerabhadraiah Hiremath and on the tabla by Pt. Ramesh Dhannur.

Vidushi Padmini Rao, an accomplished exponent of Kirana Gharana, is one of the senior most disciples of Padma Vibhushan Dr. Prabha Attre with whom she is associated for over 35 years. She started her training in vocal music at a tender age under Pt. Manohar Otavkar and learnt Sitar from Pramila Dagar. Later she reverted to vocal music and received talim in voice culture under Ustad Mohiuddin Dagar, a renowned Drupad and Rudraveena Maestro.

With her forte being classical music, Padmini remains equally at home in light classical forms including thumaris and bhajans. She has travelled and performed extensively in various parts of the world and all over India.

Music connoisseurs may attend in large numbers, says a press release from Dr. M.S. Bhaskar of Swarasankula Sangeetha Sabha.

MAN OF THE EAR: A picture is said to be worth 10,000 words. But the picture, showing a triumphant Trump with his bleeding ear, arm-pumping his fist in a victory salute, with the US Stars and Stripes wafting over him like a heaven-sent guardian angel, will be worth many times that if it gets him re-elected to White House, even as conspiracy theorists mutter that the whole thing was rigged.

Mainstream media are already linking him to others who've held Presidential Office in US, or aspired to do so, and have been victims of gun violence, most notably Abraham Lincoln and JFK, an association that will assign to Trump if not a full-fledged halo of martyrdom, at least a semi-circular halo, or an ear-shaped one.

Indeed, Trump's hearing organ might go down in history along with a famous ear, that of Captain Robert Jenkins, a Welsh master mariner.

In April 1731, returning to Britain after a trading voyage to West Indies, Jenkins' ship, Rebecca, was stopped and boarded by the crew of a Spanish vessel.

Accusing Jenkins of smuggling, the Spanish captain, as stated in a deposition made in British Parliament by the Welshman, "took hold of his left Ear, and with his Cutlass slit it down, and then another of the Spaniards took hold of it and tore it off, but gave him the Piece of his Ear again, bidding him carry it to His Majesty King George." For dramatic effect, Jenkins is said to have waved the amputated organ around.

In a long-delayed reaction of outrage Britain — supposedly egged on by commercial interests who wanted to end the Spanish trade monopoly in West Indies — declared war on Spain in 1739, resulting in a conflict that dragged on for nine years and 110 years later, was dubbed 'The War of Jenkins' Ear' by historian and essayist Thomas Carlyle.

Will some future annalist, writing about the battle for the US Presidency, call it 'The War of Donald's Ear,' amid jubilant cries of 'Hear, hear!' Interspersed with 'Ear, ear!'?

Ultra-realistic portraits of Italian artist

Quarto: Jorit Agoch is a famous Italian graffiti artist known for his clean style and large-scale, ultra-realistic portrait murals painted on the side of buildings all over the world.

Hailing from Quarto, a commune in the Naples metropolitan area, Jorit quickly made a name for himself in the urban art world thanks to his impressively clean style and a degree of realism that is very hard to achieve using spray paint. Today, his awe-inspiring portrait murals can be admired in dozens of cities around the world, from Italy to Russia, the USA and South America.

Jorit Agoch honed his skills at his local train yard, covering the trains there in original artworks, before gradually evolving to murals in the northern suburbs and in the historic centre of Naples. His art was exceptional, and it wasn't long before authorities began inviting him to decorate the façades of various buildings with it.

Man trying to get into University for 16 years!

Beijing: A 36-year-old man has become known as "China's most stubborn man" after taking the national college admission exam 16 consecutive years in an attempt to get accepted to the prestigious Tsinghua University.

Tang Shangjun took the gaokao, China's notoriously difficult college admission exam, in 2009. He scored a mediocre 372 points out of 750, much too low to get into Tsinghua University, so he spent the next few years studying harder. By 2016, he scored 625 points, enough to secure admission to several universities, but not good enough for Tsinghua. So year after year, he ignored all other universities, but did not get into his desired faculties at Tsinghua University.

Promote Swachh River Cauvery

Sir,

This refers to the photo caption titled 'Fresh Water & Dirty Plastic' in Star of Mysore dated July 18. The issue of plastic pollution in the River Cauvery is neither new nor unknown. As the river flows downstream from the KRS Dam, it becomes increasingly polluted due to the actions of tourists and various entities along its banks. The primary culprits are the shops and restaurants situated at various tourist spots along the river.

One notable example is the Balamuri Falls. A visit to the area after 6 pm reveals a significant amount of non-biodegradable waste dumped near the old boating steps. According to Google, the name 'Cauvery' literally means 'one who brings abundance.' Let's not pollute the abundance it provides in the form of drinking water, irrigation and support for flora and fauna.

Swachh Bharat, Swachh Mysuru — and now, let's seriously promote Swachh Cauvery.

MUDA Scam: Congress files plaint against RTI activists

Mysuru, July 20 (MK&BS)- A delegation of Congress leaders from Mysuru City and District Congress Committee, has lodged a complaint with City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar on Friday, demanding the arrest of Right to Information (RTI) activists Gangaraju and Snehamayi Krishna, for indulging in a negative campaign, by forging documents to implicate Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his family members, at the behest of BJP and Janata Dal-Secular (JD-S) party leaders.

In their complaint copy, the Congress leaders have stated that, the probe into the scam believed to have happened at Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) has been handed over to one-man Judicial Commission headed by a retired judge. MUDA has allotted sites under 50:50 ratio to the CM's wife, Parvathi, to compensate for 3.16 acres of land at Kesare belonging to Parvathi, that was acquired by MUDA. However, the RTI activists Gangaraju and Snehamayi Krishna, who have forged documents to support their claims, have been indulged in spreading misinformation against CM's family through media and social media for the last 30 days, portraying that they have committed a bigger scam.

If they have any documents, they should submit them to the Judicial Commission, instead they are up against the CM to dent his image and also abusing their family members, with a Goebbels propaganda. Hence the two RTI activists should be immediately arrested, Congress leaders have urged.

KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana said, Gangaraju and Snehamayi Krishna are the agents of BJP and JD(S) parties, and are indulged in swindling money through rollcall. If they continue to behave irrationally, Congress workers will be forced to stage a protest.

President of Mysuru District Rural Congress Committee Dr. B.J. Vijaykumar said, when CM Siddaramaiah started construction of his house seven years ago, these RTI activists had been moving Court frequently. But the judge quashed their application. They are facing six to seven cases and the Police should take this into account, he demanded.

Govt. harassing RTI activists for exposing MUDA scam: HDK

Bengaluru, July 20 (BS)- Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel, H.D. Kumaraswamy, has alleged that Right To Information (RTI) activists, who exposed the scam related to alternative sites under 50:50 ratio at Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's family, are being harassed by the Government.

In a statement released to media persons, Kumaraswamy, has charged that, while the Opposition parties were targeted during the Assembly session for raising the scams, the RTI activists, who were unearthing the truth, are being silenced by CM by misusing his power. Congress party is targeting those RTI activists, with the sole agenda of protecting the CM's family which is in the dock, he added.

Hazardous gas

21-year-old factory worker dies; kin, farmer leaders stage stir

Abhishek

Nanjangud, July 20 (BS)- A 21-year-old factory worker met his tragic end, after inhaling a hazardous gas at Tandavapura Industrial Area (TANDIA), in Nanjangud on Friday.

Abhishek, son of Doreswamy, a native of Toremavu village in the taluk, is the deceased person. He was employed at ITC Factory and was deputed in Nicotine Manufacturing Unit, when the tragedy struck, it is said.

Abhishek was working in second shift on Friday, when he came in contact with the hot vapour of the poisonous gas and collapsed. He was rushed to a hospital in the town, but efforts made to stabilise his condition, proved futile.

His father blamed the factory management, for their dereliction and negligence in following safety protocol and providing safety gears, in Nicotine Manufacturing Unit, considered as dangerous, that led to his son's death.

Sub-Inspector of Nanjangud Rural Police Station Ramkumar, Policemen Yogesh and Ramesh visited the spot and made arrangements to shift the body to K.R. Hospital Mortuary in Mysuru.

Protest at mortuary

Meanwhile, the family members with the support of fellow villagers and Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) leaders, staged a flash protest, at the mortuary premises, demanding justice for bereaved relatives and action against the factory officers for failing to discharge their duty, urging the Police to file a First Information Report (FIR) against them.

Learning about the protest, Assistant Commissioner of Mysuru Sub-Division K.R. Rakshith, accompanied by Nanjangud Tahsildar Shivakumar and Nanjangud Rural Police Inspector Suneel Kumar rushed to the protest site. They also brokered truce, instructing the ITC Factory Manager Raveesh, to make arrangements to hand over the compensation amount to the family of the deceased factory worker.

Following this, the protesters called off their stir and allowed to conduct post-mortem of the body. The body was later handed over to the family members.

AC Rakshith told Star of Mysore, a FIR has been already registered with regard to the incident at Nanjangud Rural Police Station. Action will be initiated against the factory Manager and management, upon the receipt of autopsy report. Raitha Sangha leader Hosakote Basavaraju and Trade Union leader Chandrashekar Meti were present.

Woman dies due to wall collapse in Periyapatna

Hemalatha

Periyapatna, July 20 (BCT)- In a tragic incident caused by relentless rain, a woman lost her life as a wall of a tobacco barrel collapsed at Kaggundi village, Periyapatna taluk, yesterday.

The victim, identified as Hemalatha (22), wife of Shivaraj, was taking her one-and-a-half-year-old child to the bathroom when the incident occurred. The child miraculously escaped unharmed as she managed to throw the child to safety before the wall crashed on her.

Local Police from Periyapatna arrived at the scene, registered a complaint and conducted a preliminary investigation. Revenue Department officials also visited the site to assess the damage.

Hemalatha's body was sent for a post-mortem in Periyapatna before being handed over to her grieving family.

Village leader Raju highlighted the urgent need for attention to the deteriorating conditions of many old houses in the taluk. He urged the Revenue Department to conduct thorough inspections and expedite the rehabilitation of vulnerable families to prevent further tragedies, especially during the monsoon season. Residents are calling for immediate action to ensure the safety of vulnerable families as heavy rains continue to batter the region. Following the incident, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar visited the place and consoled the family.

Yaduveer also visited the rain-affected areas of Madikeri and Kushalnagar, including several sites where houses had collapsed. He sought information from Panchayat officers about the relief measures being taken to assist the affected residents.

Residents of Sai Layout in Kushalnagar complained to Yaduveer that their area floods annually whenever water is released from the Harangi Dam. They appealed to him for a permanent solution, expressing their desire to stay in their own homes during the monsoon instead of having to relocate to Kalaji Kendras.

First Create Jobs Then Reserve Jobs

Pathetic state of roads in Hebbal Industrial area, Mysuru.

The Karnataka Government's recent handling of the Bill mandating reservations for Kannadigas in the private sector has been nothing short of chaotic.

On Monday, the Bill was approved. On Tuesday, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah proudly announced it. By Wednesday, it was scrapped, only to be slated for further discussion on Thursday.

This flip-flopping is not how a responsible Government should manage legislation that impacts millions of livelihoods and all business sectors.

The Karnataka Industrial Employment Rules, 2024, mandates that all industries and other 'establishments' appoint 50 percent of local candidates in management roles and 70 percent in non-managerial roles.

Such stringent quotas will likely drive away industries, discourage new ones and impoverish the State.

We've seen this before. Shiv Sena's Bal Thackeray tried something similar in Maharashtra and it failed miserably. Today, Maharashtra thrives as India's richest State, thanks to its robust industrial sector.

The Karnataka Congress should remember that they were elected on the back of their populist schemes, funded by taxes generated by these very industries and business establishments. But what have the Karnataka politicians done to support industries?

The last significant pro-business leader was S.M. Krishna. He nurtured Bangalore into a golden goose and subsequent leaders have only sought to exploit it without adding any value.

Now, it seems they're ready to kill the goose entirely, under the guise of benefiting Kannadigas.

In reality, this may be a ploy to divert attention from scams like those involving the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation.

While the CM proudly announced the Reservation Bill as if it were a boon he was bestowing upon the Kannadigas, the neighbouring State of Andhra Pradesh was quick to capitalise.

Andhra's Minister for Information Technology, Nara Lokesh, invited businesses to relocate to Vizag (Visakhapatnam), offering "best-in-class facilities, uninterrupted power, infrastructure and no Government restrictions."

This echoes the tactics of his father, present Andhra CM Chandrababu Naidu, who, in his earlier stint, transformed Hyderabad into 'Cyberabad' by attracting IT companies away from Karnataka.

Nara Lokesh's call has already had an impact. An Austrian industrialist in Mysuru, frustrated by the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board's (KIADB) bureaucratic inefficiency, is considering relocating to Andhra Pradesh.

She has been waiting for two years for an acre of land to set up her factory for the Printed Circuit Board Industry, only to be redirected to real estate brokers showing her KIADB lands!

This exploitation of industrial lands is rampant. The rule mandates that once allotted, a KIADB land must host an industry within three years. Instead, land-sharks establish token 'brick' factories, file IT returns for three years, then buy the land cheaply and resell it at a profit, defeating the very purpose of industrial layouts.

The Congress Government must first create jobs before reserving them.

For a start, let them first free areas like the Hebbal Industrial Area from real estate sharks, provide unfluctuating electricity, steady water supply, good roads for heavy trucks and proper drainage to prevent flooding which can make Karnataka a manufacturing hub.

After all, manufacturing is poised to become the next major employer as Artificial Intelligence is diminishing IT job opportunities.

There is also the issue of what the Bill is based on. This legislation is based on a report submitted by the late Union Minister Sarojini Mahishi in 1986, using data from 1984. Should we really be creating laws in 2024 based on 40-year-old data?

Worse, to give a new dimension, the Government has put forth an argument that industrial accident rates are higher among non-Kannadigas due to language barrier, hence the need for local reservations. This logic is flawed.

If the Government insists on imposing quotas on private establishments, why not apply the same to itself?

Why not ensure that 70 percent of Government contracts for the construction of roads go to Karnataka companies with directors who can read and write Kannada as per the Sarojini Mahishi report instead of Andhra Companies?

The Government should regulate private firms for taxation, pollution and labour laws, but it should not micromanage their operations to the point where dealing with the Government becomes a business in itself.

This Reservation Bill will drive industries out of Karnataka and in 15 years, Kannadigas might find themselves seeking jobs in Telangana or worse in Bihar.

It is interesting to note that this Bill seems to contradict CM's vision. Just last month on June 19, the CM, speaking at the curtain raiser of Global Investors Meet 2025, said "Our aim is to achieve an industrial growth rate of 15-16% annually to reach $1-trillion GDP by 2032." How can this be possible with a such reservation policy?

However, there's little need to worry. The largest land banks are held by politicians. If there are no industries, their land becomes worthless. They won't let that happen.

Industry bodies can rest, assured that this is just the politics of Karnataka which is full of 'nataka' — to divert attention from corruption.

MUDA scam

Original land owner's descendants seek their due

BJP delegation meets relatives of previous land owner at their Gandhinagar house in city

State BJP Vice-President N. Mahesh (third from right) listening to descendants of land losers Jawaraiah and his wife Pushpa at their residence in Gandhinagar this morning as State BJP OBC Morcha President R. Raghu, City BJP President L. Nagendra and others look on.

Mysuru, July 20 (BLU&BS)- The alleged site scam under 50:50 scheme at Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's family, is getting murkier with each passing day, with the latest development surrounding 3.16 acres of land at Survey No. 464 in Kesare, which was owned by CM's wife Parvathi.

The descendants of late Ninga, the original and previous owner of the land, that was purchased by Parvathi's brother Mallikarjuna Swamy in the later years, before gifting the same to his sister, have resolved to meet the Deputy Commissioner today at 4 pm, seeking justice, claiming their rightful share in the proceedings of the land, as Parvathi got 14 sites in upscale Vijayanagar in the form of compensation from MUDA, for acquiring the said land.

They affirmed their decision to fight for their due, during the visit of BJP delegation led by former Minister N. Mahesh, who is the State BJP Vice-President, to their house on 8th Cross, Gandhinagar in the city, this morning.

Ninga had reportedly bought 3.16 acres of land in auction in the year 1935 from the Government. He had three sons — Mallaiah, Mylaraiah and Devaraju. Among them, Devaraju sold the land to Mallikarjuna Swamy, the CM's brother-in-law, keeping his two brothers in dark, alleged Jawaraiah, son of Mallaiah, vividly recalling the matters related to the land, to the BJP leaders.

Jawaraiah, flanked by his wife Pushpa, said: "I was a kid, when my uncle (Devaraju) sold the land in a unscrupulous manner. We were neither aware of the location of the land nor our father had signed any document to facilitate the sale of the land. We came to know about the facts related to land, only through media recently. We should also benefit from the proceedings of the land and will meet the DC in this regard."

BJP leader Mahesh alleged that "there seems to be large scale violations, as Mallikarjuna Swamy had bought the land from Devaraju, without following any due procedures. Now, the legal heirs (of Ninga, the original land owner) are seeking our assistance to launch a struggle and we are here to extend our support to them."

State BJP OBC Morcha President R. Raghu (Kautilya), City BJP President and former MLA L. Nagendra, former Mayor Sandesh Swamy, former Corporator Dr. Ashwini Sharath, BJP leader Mahadevaiah and former Syndicate Member of University of Mysore Sharath were among those in the delegation.

Fortunately, no accidents or casualties occurred between the time the sinkhole formed and when it was first noticed. Upon receiving the alert, KR Traffic Police quickly arrived at the scene, cordoned off the area and erected barricades and warning signs to caution motorists. Additionally, a Home Guard has been deployed to the site to further alert passing motorists.

Authorities have sought assistance from National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) officials, who inspected the site, to determine the cause of the sudden formation of the sinkhole on the heavily trafficked Ring Road.

After conducting an inspection, the officials are working to ascertain the reason for the sudden creation of such a large sinkhole, which poses a serious threat to the safety of motorists. Measures are now being taken to fix the sinkhole and ensure the smooth passage of vehicles.

Pigeon from Kerala flies to Bhagamandala Temple

Temple priest hands over bird to owner

Mysuru, July 20 (BCT)- The Kodagu region, especially Bhagamandala and Talacauvery, has been experiencing continuous rainfall for the past week or so. Amidst this, a rare pigeon made an appearance at the Sri Bhagandeshwara Swamy Temple at Bhagamandala five days ago.

The Temple's chief priest Harish Bhatt and staff noticed the pigeon, which stayed away from the other pigeons at the temple complex. They took care of it, providing water and grains regularly. Upon closer inspection, they observed a metal ring on the pigeon's right leg, inscribed with the owner's name and mobile number.

Harish Bhatt then contacted the mobile number belonging to Sreejith and found out that the pigeon had strayed from its home in Thaliparamba in Kerala and travelled 107.1 km to reach Bhagamandala.

Sreejith told Harish Bhatt that his trained pigeon, named 'Parijatham', had been missing for the past nine days. It had gone missing while it was with other pigeons.

On July 18, Sreejith visited the Sri Bhagandeshwara Swamy Temple, expressed his gratitude to the temple priests and staff, and took his 'Parijatham' back home. Thanks to the phone number inscribed on the ring fitted into the pigeon's leg, the bird was able to return to its home.

KRS Dam: Flood Alert issued

▶ 15,000 cusecs of water released ▶ High alert in 92 villages near KRS ▶ Ranganathittu boating suspended

Water being released from 10 crest gates at KRS reservoir since this morning. [Pic. by M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav]

Mysuru, July 20 (RK&BCT)- The Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam is currently receiving an inflow of 51,375 cusecs (cubic feet per second) due to heavy rainfall in Kodagu and the release of 20,000 to 23,760 cusecs of water from the Harangi Dam. As a result, 15,000 cusecs of water is being released from the KRS Dam starting this morning.

Authorities from the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) and the Mandya District Administration have issued a flood alert, anticipating more water releases as the inflow continues to rise. Residents along the riverbanks and in low-lying areas have been advised to relocate to safer places.

This morning, the water level at the KRS Dam stood at 119.90 feet, just 4.9 feet below the maximum level of 124.80 feet. The current storage capacity is 42.916 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet), with a maximum capacity of 49.452 tmcft.

CNNL Executive Engineer Jayanth, speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, reported that reservoir has been consistently receiving an inflow of 51,375 cusecs, necessitating the release of 15,000 cusecs of water considering the Dam safety.

"The Dam has crossed 119 feet, and if this inflow continues, the reservoir will reach its maximum capacity of 124.80 feet by tomorrow afternoon," he said.

In response to the situation, 92 villages have been identified as vulnerable in the Mandya district, and the District Administration has established control rooms. CNNL has warned that surplus water could be released at any moment.

DC visits Dam

Mandya Deputy Commissioner Dr. Kumara reviewed the situation yesterday and visited the KRS Dam this morning to assess the conditions. He informed officials that if the outflow exceeds 1,00,000 cusecs per day, 92 villages in the district could be affected, and the local administration must be prepared to handle any emergencies.

Control rooms have been established at the taluk level, and officials have been instructed to follow standard protocols for alerting residents in vulnerable areas before releasing water. Authorities have also formed a task force at the taluk and gram panchayat levels to manage any crises that may arise.

Boating suspended

Boating activities at the popular Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary have been temporarily suspended following the release of a large quantity of water from the KRS Dam into Cauvery River.

The release of water from KRS Reservoir has caused a significant rise in the water level of the Cauvery River downstream at Ranganathittu. Forest Department has ordered suspension of boating activities. Visitors are encouraged to enjoy the sanctuary's other attractions.

No light show at KRS Dam

due to replacement of crest gates

Mysuru, July 20 (RK&BCT)- This year, visitors to KRS Dam will miss the usual spectacular and colourful light display during the water release from the crest gates. The absence of lights is due to the removal and disconnection of bulbs as part of the installation of new crest gates.

CNNL Executive Engineer Jayanth informed Star of Mysore this morning that 153 crest gates at various levels have been replaced due to corrosion and damage. "During this process, the special light-emitting diode (LED) bulbs_were removed, and their connections were disconnected. We will try to set up some temporary lights this year, and from next year, we will have a full-fledged light display," he said.

In previous years, CNNL has illuminated the Dam gates with bright and colourful LED lights to enhance visual spectacle of the water release. It wasintroduced in October 2018, was a great success. Over 500 LED bulbs were installed to create a vibrant display, projecting colours like red, green, violet, magenta and orange onto cascading water.

Golf: Vidhatri Urs secures first win as professional

Hosur (Tamil Nadu), July 20- City's professional golfer Vidhatri Urs holed a hat trick of birdies early in the round to cruise to a 2-shot win in ninth leg of Women's Pro Golf Tour 2024 at the Clover Greens, here yesterday.

Vidhatri shot 1-under 70 for her third under par round of the week after 68-69 on the first two days. She totalled 6-under 207 to complete a fine wire-to-wire win. This was Vidhatri's first win as a professional, though she has won on the tour as an amateur in the past.

Amateur Saanvi Somu (71), who bogeyed twice in the last three holes, finished second, two shots at 209 behind Vidhatri. Experienced Gaurika Bishnoi shot even par 71 and was a further two shots behind at 2-under 211 for sole third. Vidhatri, who was third in her previous two starts as a professional, opened with two pars before finding three birdies on the trot to bolster her chances. Four pars from sixth to ninth saw her turn in 3-under.

Bogeys on the tenth and the 11th were blips but she made amends for them as she birdied the 15th. She could then afford a bogey on the last hole as her playing partner Saanvi dropped shots on 16th and 18th. Vidhatri's 1-under 70 was one of the only 2 under par rounds on final day.

Saanvi had two birdies on either side of the course but she also gave away a shot on the front nine and three more on the back nine for an even par 71 which gave her the sole second place.

Gaurika started with a bogey but two birdies on the third and the fifth saw her turn in 1-under. On the back 9 she dropped a shot on 12th and parred the rest. Three players, Khushi Khanijau (70), Shweta Mansingh (71) and Sneha Singh (73), were tied for 4th at 1-over 214. Amateur Mannat Brar (76) slipped in final round and was 7th while Jahaanvie Walia (71) and Gourabi Bhowmick (74) were tied 9th. Karishma Govind (74) was 10th.

Hitaashee Bakshi (72-76-71), who finished T-12, stays on top of the Hero Order of Merit, while Sneha, the topper in 2023, is in 2nd with Amandeep Drall (72-76), who was 14th this week, being third.

The 10th leg of the Hero WPGT will be held from July 23 to July 26 at Prestige Golfshire, Bengaluru.
